DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12/30/2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8-12, 18, 19, 21, 22, 28-31, 52-53, and 89 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saunders (U.S. 5,176,696).

As to claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8-12, and 89, Saunders discloses in figures 1-4, a pair of opposing blades (12,14, including spring members 62,64 and hinge 66), wherein each of said opposing blades (12,14) having middle sections (at 24,34), wherein each of said middle sections (at 24,34) including an extension support member (22,32) extending transversely relative to the direction of motion of the opposing blades (12,14) without being in direct communication with the other of the opposing blades (12,14) (see fig. 4); wherein the distal section of each of the opposing blades (12,14) includes cutting portion (20).

As to claims 18, 19, wherein the proximal section (at 62,64,66), the middle section (at 24,34) and distal section (at 36) of each corresponding opposing blades (12,14) form a generally arc shaped configuration, and wherein the generally arc shaped configuration forms a generally concave side at the top surface and a generally convex side at the bottom surface (when the surgeon holds the instrument as shown in figure 3, with the instrument turns the opposite side), a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 12/30/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 89 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
